About Tre Bicchieri Gambero Rosso, the global authority on Italian wine, food, travel and culture, is perhaps best known in the United States as the publisher of the annual guide to Italian wines, the Vini d'Italia. Featuring more than just reviews of Italy's finest wines, Vini d'Italia covers the brilliant, passionate individuals who devote their lives to winemaking. Today, more than 70 expert tasters comprise the team that blind-tastes 45,000+ wines annually, rating them on a scale of one to three glasses (bicchieri). Of these many thousands of wines, fewer than 1% achieve the Tre Bicchieri designation, a ranking reserved for only the best wines from each vintage.
